About Me

Hello! I'm Anika Tasnim, a second-year Computer Science student at Jahangirnagar University with a passion for exploring the vast world of technology. Currently, I'm focusing on learning web development and improving my writing skills. I love working on projects that combine creativity with logical thinking, like building websites. Aside from academics, I also enjoy sharing my thoughts and observations through blogging, and I believe in making tech knowledge accessible and enjoyable for everyone.
